Claims

[c1]   A method for processing input having a resource identifier comprising: accessing a MetaURI type object having at least one property corresponding to the resource identifier; generating a request with said at least one property of said MetaURI type object; and, processing said generated request.

[c2]   A method, as set forth in claim [c1], wherein said MetaURI type object includes one of a WHOIS object, HLD object, AfterMarket Object, BackOrder Object, and ExpiryCountdown object.

[c3]   A method, as set forth in claim [c2], wherein said at least one property is an expiry countdown parameter and further including determining that said expiry countdown parameter is less than a configurable threshold value.

[c4]   A method, as set forth in claim [c1], further including providing user options with said generated request.

[c5]   A method, as set forth in claim [c5], wherein said user options include one of a registering, bidding, auctioning, listing, monitoring, and back-ordering the resource identifier.